

Isprieth Academy organises

2 Days Workshop on

Academic Leadership

Leadership only succeeds
if the leader brings other people along into the same vision, and they are all able to work together and trust one another.

Today's education field is embracing school leadership as an essential ingredient in reform, worthy of investment in its own right. To date we have not found a single case of a school improving its student achievement record in the absence of talented leadership. Successful school reform depends on having leaders well prepared to change schools and improve instruction. Our workshop is aimed to make learning, the central focus on the institution-building and creating awareness of leadership competencies.
